VBS 2018 off to an heroic Monday start

So much happened during our first day of VBS 2018 that it's tough to single out a top highlight.

Meeting Solar Boy, Wonder Lass, Professor Lightning, Solar Girl and Ultra Girl (seen here) live and in person has to rank near the top of the list.

It looks like they will have to stay on top of things if they are going to defeat the evil plans of Myrtle Periwinkle, if that indeed is her real name!

Another highlight was when all of our heroes at F.A.I.T.H. HQ got their first chance to sing and dance to some of the most heroic VBS songs ever, not to mention the return of our all time favorite song, "Yes to VBS."

Between all the fun we learned about courage and how a prophet named Gideon went up against some bad guys and won the day thank to his love and faith in God.

We learned that we can be a hero like Gideon, and that we can use our powers to serve God.

One way we can do that this very week is by bringin in the little packages of soap and shampoo and other stuff that you often find in hotels.

Each year we collect what we can and then donate it to help others who are in need. Canned food and other dry goods is another way.

Bring what you can and drop it off in the Batmobile at Faithopolis. Let's fill that car up by the end of the week!

Mosquito nets needed NOW in refugee camp

Our VBS Super Heroes will be raising money this year to buy mosquito nets for children at the Kyangwali Refugee Camp in Uganda. As you might expect, conditions are quite nasty there and the kids are at great risk of falling victim to diseases carried not only by mosquitoes, but other insects as well.

that included 800 children, most of them orphans.

We're asking everyone to bring in their loose change and spare dollar bills each day and put it in the bucket at the end of their row.

We'll keep track of how much cash each row of heroes collects each day and let everyone know who's leading. At the end of the week, the heroes who has raised the most money will get a very special reward: the right to come up on stage Friday night to help lead the singing of some of our favorite VBS songs of the week. It's a big deal, believe us!

We hope all our heroes loved their first day of VBS 2018.

Before we start sharing news, here's something you should know that will definitely help later in the week when we learn how Ultra Girl got her speedy super power.

It has to do with the turkey gravy Mr. Banke makes from the turkey drippings every year on Thanksgiving. The first thing to know is that no one in his family will touch the stuff. They say they don't like gravy that is so thick you don't need to take any mashed potatoes to go with it.

They say they don't like gravy that is so thick, when it cools you don't spoon it on to your plate, you take slices.

They say they don't like gravy that is so thick, if you use it as a binder to hold loaves of Great Grandma Banke's rye bread in place you could build a nuclear fall out shelter in your yard.

Why so thick? See if you can tell. Here's the recipe: For every cup of drippings you add a cup of milk. For every cup of fluid, you add 2 heaping tablespoons of flour. Mix it together, stir constantly to a boil, add pepper to taste, and...absolutely perfect gravy! How could anyone not like it? It gave Ultra Girl her superpowers!

Once again, the official VBS t-shirt design includes the helmet logo of our favorite NFL team, the Minnesota Vikings. The first six heroes who can walk up to Mr. Banke and point exactly to where it is snuck into the design will win a prize. No multiple guessing. You have until Friday night.

Text your VBS stories and pictures by 2 p.m. to 321-698-0591 or email them to vbs2018@aol.com. We need full names and ages or grades, please.
